

Hello New Hampshire Educators,

My name is Dr. Deborah Taub and I am with Keystone Assessment, LLC. We will be working with you and the New Hampshire Department of Education to support your transition to the Dynamic Learning Maps (DLM) Alternate Assessment.

Keystone Assessment is a small company made up of former educators with experience teaching and assessing students with extensive learning needs (a.k.a. students with the most significant cognitive disabilities). Members of our staff have worked on three federally funded national technical assistance centers in the areas of deaf-blindness, positive behavior interventions and supports, and alternate assessment. Our primary role is to support your understanding and implementation of New Hampshire's new alternate assessment, DLM.

We will be designing online trainings to help ensure that you become certified and are comfortable in administering the DLM assessment. In addition to assisting you in successfully completing the certification process, we will also have an online Q & A session to support your administration of the assessment. You may contact us via email at any time regarding questions related to administering the assessment.
